Computer Science Majors be like:

"I fix bugs for a living".. but can't fix their sleep schedule, local life, or the one semi-colon that's ruining their life.

Your idea of a fun Weekend?

Debugging a segmentation fault at 3 am, fueled by caffeine and existential dread

CS Majors treat life like it's Object Oriented

But still can't encapsulate their emotions, abstract their trauma, or inherit social skills
